EX-ACTRESS REOPENS OLD MYSTERY

Demanding that she either be prosecuted or completely exonerated of any implication in the murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director, 10 years ago, Mary Miles Minter, one time screen star, is shown with her attorney, E. Madge and Lillian Cooperate To Decipher Code Message From "The Chief"

I NEVER have known a more consistent egotist—or a more fascinating one when he wishes to be—than Allen Drake. He is so sure of his own superior mentality that he does not take the trouble to prove it, or even, often, to assert it.

But one cannot be in the same room with him without knowing that beneath his charming suavity of manner and his perfect poise there lies his settled conviction that he can make no mistakes, and that his word is law.

Years ago I had disproved the first premise, when by the merest fluke—a possession by a fortunate accident of a knowledge of ancient Sumerian characters—I had been able to decode a much wanted list of conspirators against the government which had completely baffled Allen, who was an acknowledged master of codes.

He had been most charming in his tribute to me on that occasion, but I had surmised that the words had cost him a distinct effort, and that the exact to which he was referring that a woman could not beat a man in any test had been an uncomfortable one.

His present dilemma must be even more distasteful to him, I reflected, because of the adroitly concealed but intense anger he had cherished against me since I had flouted his authority and gone to Katherine's aid. Not that Katherine's need of me. Nor that he had made any open manifestation of his wrath. He was too well bred and too clever for that. But his icy, carefully formal courtesy, with no word of look addressed to me that he could help, told me again what I had known long before, that crushing his will was to him a deadly sin.

It was Lillian who brought the untranslated code to me. She came into my room in the afternoon of the day which had seen it arrive in the guise of a long telegram addressed to Charles Spencer, and held it out to me with a very grim twisting the corners of her mouth.

From Her Father? "If you hear Allen any ancient grudge," she said, "you sure can feed it fat this day. He's tying himself into stitches over there"—she gestured toward the living room—"in quite gentlemanly fashion, it is true. But they are unmistakable stitches nevertheless. And I don't wonder. After all, it isn't exactly cricket to hold up this message for all these hours because he's too obstinate to admit your father has employed a code which he can't decipher himself." I had held out my hand mechanically.

Your Health
BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

"Shingles."

THOSE WHO have been over-exposed to cold, and those who have overworked or have infected teeth and tonsils, often suffer from an annoying affliction known as "shingles." Herpes zoster is the medical name for the ailment. It is rarely if ever encountered in the one who has normal health and vigor.

There are several forms of shingles. Some attacks are exceedingly mild, while others last for several weeks, a month or more. The severe form may continue the sufferer to bed for many weeks.

Shingles is a condition often confused with rheumatism, neuritis, neuritis and other similar and painful disorders. At the beginning of the disease the nature of the pain makes it appear to be one of these other troubles, but within 12 to 24 hours after the onset of the pain a peculiar and unmistakable rash appears.

The skin eruption resembles fever blisters, consisting of numerous small blisters, sometimes reaching the size of a small pea. The adjacent skin becomes red and inflamed.

Bear in mind that shingles may appear anywhere on the body. The pain follows the course of a nerve. As a rule, it attacks elderly people, but may be observed in young adults and even children. For some unknown reason, the attack in children is usually slight and the pain not severe. There is some consolation in the thought that a second attack of shingles seldom occurs.

Relief of pain is usually obtained by the application of a mild and soothing ointment. In more severe cases it may be necessary to resort to an opiate. Of course, this can only be administered under the supervision of a physician. In case of persistent pain, melted paraffin is sometimes used as a local application. Your doctor will tell you about this procedure.

which gives complete relief from pain for about 24 to 48 hours. As I have suggested, shingles is most likely to occur in the tired individual. The actual cause of the disease has never been determined. But its occurrence can be regarded as a sign of a fatigued condition. It is a warning sign that should not be ignored.

SUPPLY PURCHASING
SYSTEM CHANGED

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 5.—A new system of purchasing supplies for county offices has been inaugurated by the Morrow county commissioners.

Instead of verbal notification to the clerk of the board for any type of supplies each county office now is required to fill out regulations to assure him of getting what he needs and to prevent duplicate approval of bills for the same things.

Floods and Frosts Keep Price of Food Higher

Prices of foodstuffs in Marion markets this week continued at the unusually high level caused by unforeseen winter freezing temperatures in California and floods in the middlewest which delayed shipping from other food growing centers. California produce was reported somewhat cheaper, though not enough to warrant a noticeable change in retail prices. Marion dealers said.

California oranges went down slightly while Florida continued high. Mid-west California fruit, usually selling for about a penny an orange, are almost double in price this winter.

Several new arrivals were noted on Marion shelves during the week.

chief among them honeydew from South America. These luscious fruits are in peak form this year and are priced accordingly, dealers reported. Also new in California areparagus for the better trade, and green lima beans of particularly good quality for this time of year.

About to leave the produce store for the season is Pascal celery which has found considerable favor with Marion housewives. Home-grown potatoes are still in the height of their season and will continue for about two or three months until new potatoes begin coming to the market more strongly. New ones can be had now at fairly reasonable prices. Florida strawberries are coming in well now, dealers said.

Not a new item on the market, but still worth mentioning is the packaged assortment of vegetables all ready for making a delicious soup or stew. Wrapped in cellophane the vegetables include a turnip or two, peas, beans, carrots and turnips, sliced and fresh. The Cuban pineapple season is opening earlier than usual, dealers reported.

TRAILER TELEGRAPH OFFICE STOPS HERE

Enroute to Southern Ohio Flood Area for Emergency Service.

A portable telegraph office, constructed in a 17-foot automobile trailer, and designed as an emergency unit of the Western Union Telegraph Co., stopped here yesterday afternoon enroute to the southern Ohio flood district. The unit was constructed in Chicago last week and was dispatched to Columbus for use at points along the Ohio river where flood waters have hampered the normal telegraph facilities.

The trailer carries its own light and power plant and enough provisions for two men for a 10-day period. It is equipped with three Morse type sending and receiving units and a teleprinter. The spacious trailer has sleeping quarters for two people and it is possible to connect the apparatus anywhere along a telegraph line.

The outfit was under the supervision of J. D. Gallagher of Chicago, and remained in Marion less than an hour before continuing to Columbus. The trailer is one of several units to be held for emergency use.

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Gallatin collection of Ohio history, written for the Associated Press.)

The candidates for governor of Ohio in 1929 were Judson Harmon, Democrat, then in office and nominated by his party for a second term, and Warren G. Harding, Republican.

Gov. Harmon was re-elected by a majority of more than 100,000.

What seemed certain in the light of that result was that the highest office in the nation was now within the grasp of Gov. Harmon. Exactly the opposite was the result. Ten years later Harding was to be nominated and elected to the presidency.

At the end of his second term as governor, Harmon met with opposition from Bryan, who halted the Ohio governor's advance and then veered in the support of Woodrow Wilson. Two terms and then laid in the hands of Harding.

PUPILS ARE TESTED ON CURRENT EVENTS

Knowledge of Home and World Affairs Determined in Quiz.

Current events at home and abroad were the subject of a test given recently to eighth grade pupils, ninth grade sociology pupils, and all high school pupils in the public schools.

Scoring made by Harding High School, with announced results, not by individuals but by the number of pupils making various scores. Of the 104 questions, covering virtually every phase of news in the last several months, only one pupil out of 750 who took the test scored from 95 to 100, the report shows. Thirty answered from 91 to 95 questions correctly, 75 were correct in answers of from 85 to 90 questions, and 93 scored from 81 to 85. The largest group was 101 in the 76 to 80 class.

The test was given by the American Education Press, Inc., of Columbus, and required only a little more than a 30-minute period for both answering and grading.

At the high school the test was conducted from the office via the school radio system.

Some pupils who are not studying sociology at present took the test difficult under through the press and radio they had kept up with the trend of international affairs, school leaders said.

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

PATTERN FOR HUSBANDS.

This is the season for the annual crop of syndromes among college students, in which they ventilate their versions of "The Ideal Man" and "The Perfect Girl." Strange that in the list of desirable qualities named, money, good looks, personality and clothes sense always come first, while companionship and loyalty are seldom even mentioned.

Yet, you can be just as bitterly miserable with a hundred thousand and a year to scrub over as with $19 a week. But you can't be happy for a moment with a man or a woman who is not on the level with you.

Money and good looks and charm may make an attractive lover; but in the estimate of an ideal husband, they cut very little ice. Too much money and too much publicity are far more likely to lead to stress than to happiness. And three months after the wedding you start to give the way in a spin's hair or whether his nose is classic or Gothic. So what?

You'll never find 100 per cent perfection in any normal man any way, and you wouldn't like it if you did. You'd want your husband human. No put away your lanterns and your microscopes, and concentrate on the simple question of making a marriage that is a quality which outgrows all the other.

Is he the man whose presence in a room lights up the scenery for you and makes the world go round a little faster?

Is he the man with whom you are never bored, whether you are talking, dancing or just sitting silent in the moonlight?

Is he the man who gives you the zest for life? Who stimulates and inspires you and gives you fresh confidence in yourself?

Is he the man beside whom and for whom you want to share your thoughts, your jokes, your thrills, your job or your games?

Is he the man to whom you have an impulse to tell things? The man to whom you enjoy talking about yourself, who helps you to idealize yourself, who cheers you on?

For the largest shock in life is to marry for a cheer-leader and get an extinguisher.

In short, is he the Big Thrill in your life, the carter that ignites your hopes, dreams and ambitions, and gives life a real meaning for you?

For, no matter how steady a man's character, how great his money-making ability, or how fascinating a lover he makes—unless he is all these things, he is not the ideal man for you. Out of one hundred points, companionship counts ninety-nine.

COAST GUARDSMAN WRITES OF FLOOD

Marion Youth At Louisville, Ky., Tells of Work.

Work of the U. S. Coast Guard at Louisville, Ky., during the flood emergency is described in a letter received from one of its members, Charles W. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Williams of 230 Commercial street. The letter was written Jan. 27.

The letter, in part, follows: "The river reached a stage of 57 feet, 25 feet above flood stage and the east and west sections of the city are under water, saving thousands of persons homeless and all of their belongings ruined. The water rose so fast people did not have a chance to move their belongings. No great work was ever done by the crew of this station, than the work of moving the people from their homes without the loss of a life.

POOR COMPLEXIONS OFTEN TRACED TO CONSTIPATION

An unattractive, sallow skin and dull, lifeless eyes often mean that common constipation has clogged up your system. You feel wretched and listless, may have headaches.

This condition is usually the result of meals low in "bulk." Restore this "bulk" with Kellogg's All-Bran.

Within the body, All-Bran absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently exercises and cleanses the system. Isn't this cereal way better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Try Kellogg's All-Bran for a week. If not satisfied, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Serve All-Bran as a cereal with milk or fruits, or in recipes. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

which passed through Marion) we are able to carry supplies, food and medicine to people where trucks cannot go. So with the battle not yet over, the crew of the Louisville station will carry on until the river goes down.

JOB INSURANCE REVENUE BEGINS INFUX MONDAY

Collections in Ohio Expected To Reach $12,000,000 by March 1 Deadline Set To Avoid Penalties.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 5.—Machinery to make initial collections for Ohio's unemployment insurance fund was set today in start Monday taking in an expected $12,000,000 by March 1.

The $12,000,000 figure was the estimate of Charles Lesauze, chairman of the state unemployment compensation commission, as the amount Ohio employers owed for 1938.

Employers must pay into the state fund, designed to give financial aid to jobless starting in 1939, nine-tenths of one per cent of their last year's payroll. Another tenth goes to the federal government.

Lesauze said that forms would be mailed out Monday to start the collection machinery. A March 1 deadline was set for making payments.

The chairman and other commission members, W. T. Roberts of Bridgeport and Walter J. Mackay of Canton, said they expected business firms to "comply fully."

If employers fail to make a report to the state body they are subject to a fine of $500 and must pay the entire one per cent 1939 payroll tax into the federal treasury. They have to pay only the one-tenth per cent if they meet the state assessment.

Employers of eight or more persons are subject to assessment on 1938 pay rolls. This year, employers of three or more persons must contribute to the state and federal funds.

Assessments for 1937 are double those of 1936—the state collecting 1.8 per cent and the federal government 2 per cent—and Lesauze estimated they would produce more than $80,000,000.

Payments to unemployed persons will not begin until Jan. 1, 1939, in permit the state to build up a sufficient reserve fund.

In 1942 the commission will put employers on a merit rating basis, rewarding assessments downward or upward on the basis of their employment records. Rates will be cut for those giving steady employment.

LIFE INSURANCE CO. HEAD TALKS ON SECURITY PLAN

Charles Adams Addresses Kiwanis Club on Benefits and Operation of Federal Pension Plan.

Pointing out pitfalls that may arise in the federal government's social security program, but nevertheless, asserting that life insurance men can easily be in sympathy with the principle behind it, Charles Adams of Columbus, president of the Ohio Life Insurance Co., presented an informal talk on "Social Security" before the Kiwanis club at noon yesterday at Hotel Station, Judge Hecker S. Young, a director in the insurance company of which Mr. Adams is president, introduced the speaker.

"Nothing has been done in the last four years of greater importance or permanence than the social security act," the speaker said as he opened his talk in which he explained the workings of the program.

In favor of the plan and the principle it embodies, he said that critics of the act question portions of the method under which it is being administered. The fact that more funds are collected than is paid out, with the difference forming a large reserve fund is the point largely attacked, he said.

To turn over portions of the reserve fund to benefit payments, it is necessary for each session of congress to affirm the objective of the security act, Mr. Adams said. Therein lies, what critics might easily lead to and uncaring allocation of the funds collected for the administration of the act, he added.

Hope Reserve Provided
"It is estimated that in 1939 the reserve fund will reach the staggering figure of 15 billion dollars, which might provide other government agencies a temptation of borrowing from funds rightfully belonging to the security program," Mr. Adams asserted. It was the speaker's opinion that life insurance and social security are not in competition with each other. In that insurance provides a benefit by contract, while the other gives the government's promise to carry out its obligations.

"Unfortunately," he said, "much publicity has been given to the fact that the maximum benefit of the program is $35 a month. It is estimated that not more than five per cent of the workers will ever be entitled to the maximum benefit, and those who are, must have earned $3,000 a year from the age of 21 to 65."

"On the scale of a $100-month salary, a 20-year-old man would receive a benefit of $53.75 a month at 65, and similarly a man of 30 would receive $47.60, while a 40-year-old man would receive $37.60 and a 50-year-old employee would receive $27.60, he pointed out.

"It is estimated that by 1935 the average employee's benefit will be but $25, while in 1965 the average will rise to $35, and in 1980 the average will strike a level of $45. Funds collected under the social security program are 'frozen,' he said, in other words set aside for one particular purpose until the person to be benefited is 65."

80 Attend Meeting
Sixty members of the club were present at the luncheon which was in charge of J. J. Huebner, president. C. A. Klunk and John Abel were honored in brief remarks by President Huebner upon the celebration of wedding anniversaries. Mr. and Mrs. Klunk observed their twenty-second wedding anniversary Wednesday, while Mr. and Mrs. Abel observed their thirtieth anniversary yesterday.

O. S. U. Expert Will Address Marion County Group Monday, Feb. 15.

Marion county's steer feeding club, composed of 25 boy and girl 4-H club members, will hold its first official meeting Monday, Feb. 15, at the office of County Agent S. L. Anderson with L. P. ## The Stars Say—for Saturday, Feb. 6.

A DAY OF what is known to astrologers as "mixed influences" is forecast from the lunar aspects. While employment, general business conditions, new projects and finance are under a fairly propitious sway, yet there may be some stubborn obstacles, delays or impediments to contend with. Also there are signs of treachery, duplicity and subtle undercurrents to be disposed of. Make changes carefully and safeguard the domestic circle from anxieties or grief.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of some contradictions or conflicts. While business, employment, new undertakings and money may progress and prosper, yet there are signs of adverse conditions.

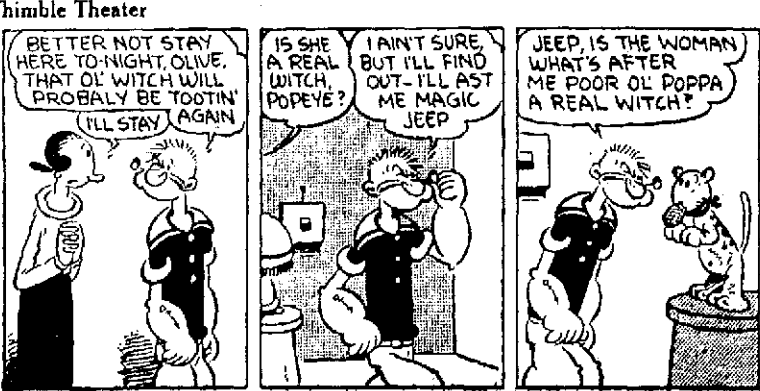

A child born on this day may be talented, enterprising and successful in employment. Yet, it may be sensitive, secretive and of a mystical or occult turn of mind.

STAGE "BULL FIGHT"
CARMEL, Cal.—Humane society officials failed to stop a bull fight sponsored by the art colony of Carmel. "You see," the artists explained, "our bulls are not bulls; they are just artists dressed up as bulls. Anyway, who can tell an artist from a bull?"
